The track, which features some of Ireland's top musicians, highlights JOSIE's signature blend of soulful melodies and heartfelt lyrics, marking a thrilling new chapter in her musical career.

Run Little Girl captures the essence of JOSIE's artistic journey, showcasing her powerful vocal presence and unique sound, which has been shaped by decades of musical passion. Her music is a fusion of deep, emotional expression and the rich traditions of soul, gospel, and Motown.

About JOSIE: A Journey From Derry to Dublin's Stages and Beyond

Born in 1973 in Derry, Northern Ireland, Josie Doherty's passion for music was evident from a young age. Influenced by Motown and the legendary Aretha Franklin, Josie began performing at family gatherings and school functions, before moving to Dublin at 19 to pursue her dream. There, she honed her skills, performing with funk and soul bands, and becoming a sought-after session singer.

Throughout her career, Josie has graced some of Ireland's most iconic venues, from Whelan's to the National Concert Hall. In 1997 when she was asked to write and perform a song for Jim Sheridan's film The Boxer.

After years of performing alongside other artists, Josie is now stepping into the spotlight with her own music. Together with her lifelong friend and guitarist, Joe Donegan, she's bringing her original works to life, sharing her powerful voice with the world.
